

MARI HALL © 2020

2020 will be known for many things, but perhaps, the COVID 19 pandemic will be the most notable event. The fear, the uncertainty, the sorrow, touched everyone's heart. Several of my paintings that were done during this time, have the pandemic as the theme of the painting.

"Aro Syren Vision" was painted during the spring of the COVID 19 pandemic. It was a time of great apprehension and fear, for my own personal safety, and great concern for the safety of friends and loved ones. "Aro Syren Vision" has my own vision of the pandemic disease, crowding into the Aro Syrens, covering their presence with ideas of malaise, fear, limitation, extinction.
