"Pacific Syren Harmony Wave" was painted during the summer of the COVID 19 pandemic. The great oceans of the world provide some protection to all of us in such a time, as a virus cannot be vigorous and float all throughout the world using the ocean waters. The "Pacific Syren Harmony Wave" is about that protection, how the Pacific Syrens float gently and tend to the oceans' waters, keeping a harmony wave, balancing our world and preparing it for a full recovery."
